Come buy my Flowers

WALTZ SONG

By C.A. WHITE

Whose melodies are never forgotten, and whose compositions always please. This is the effort of his life in writing waltz songs.
You hear this melody in the concert-room, the home circle, the minstrel hall, and everywhere you go it haunts the musical ear.

Come buy my flowers now wet with dew,
Emblems of faith, friendship, and love so true.

Up with the sun at peep of day,
Gathering flowers upon each market day.

Roses and lilies, with poppies and daisies,
Sweetest of flowers now you may see:
Fresh from the hillside just now I plucked them,—
Most fragrant flowers! come buy of me.

GEORGE H. PRIMROSE'S

Popular Song.

As sung also with immense success by the

Talented Vocalist,

MISS MINNIE LEE.

Hie Away, ole Satan!

WORDS AND MUSIC BY

M. H. ROSENFELD.

Run away! hie away!

Baby, go to bed.

Go to sleep: slumber deep,

Pretty curly-head.

Day is done, night has come,

Stars are out to peep.

Baby girl, pretty pearl,

Darling, go to sleep.

CHORUS.

Hie away, hie away, ole Satan,

Hie away, and leave my child alone.

It is late: do not wait.

Baby, go to bed.

Mother's here, watching near:

See! the day has fled.

Night has come, day is done:

Slumber sweet and deep.

Baby girl, pretty pearl,

Darling, go to sleep.

Satan, stop! don't you pop

In my chamber door:

Baby's sleep, dreaming deep

Of the happy shore.

Not an ill, sleeping still,

Mars her slumber deep:

Hie away! Satan, hie!

Let my baby sleep.
